The Special Table

Dad, Mum, Tina and Leena were cleaning out the garage. "We should throw out this old table," said Dad, "One of the legs is broken." Why don't we try to fix it?" asked Mum. At the hardware store, they bought nails, wood, sandpaper and brown paint. First they dusted off the table. Next, Dad measured and cut the wood for the new legs. Mum carefully attached it to the table. "It's not finished yet," said Mum. She painted a blue bird. Tina painted red strawberries. Leena painted orange butterflies. Dad painted a yellow sun. The next day, Tina and Leena helped Mum and Dad make lunch. They took the food outside to the special table and sat down to eat.
